

Meet Mika and Luka.

Mika and Luka live in a world of boxes. There are also stones there. And wood. That's there too. But not pieces of wood or stones that you buy in a hardware store. In Mika and Luka's world there are stones that you can find. And wood lying around outside. Just lying there, and so beautiful.

This wood and these stones are in the box. Or next to the box. Mika and Luka then stand at the edge of the box and a story can begin.

Mika and Luka are sometimes cheerful and sometimes in a bad mood. Sometimes they are curious and full of adventure. But sometimes they want to be left in peace. There are days when they are inseparable. Other times, Mika goes one way and Luka the other.

These two need your help. They need your imagination to get their story started. The wood is still missing from the boxes. And the stones. They are missing too. Would you like to collect stones and wood for Mika and Luka?

That would be really nice of you.

And when you take a look at Mika and Luka and the box and the stones and the wood, do you maybe feel like telling the story of what they're up to?

Maybe you can also think of other completely different stories - with the wood, the stones and Mika and Luka. What do you think?

We would be very happy if you and an adult could send us all the stories that Mika and Luka tell you. You are also welcome to send us photos.

Once we have lots of stories, we will make something really nice with them: an exhibition or maybe even a real book.

You can send all of Mika and Luka's stories to: info@buecherpiraten.de

Thank you very much and have fun in the world of Mika and Luka.

Übersetzt von Bethany Pringle